

Target audience

2016-11-16

The actions envisaged in the project You have right to effective protection of nature will address these main target audiences:

- Law enforcement authorities, including The National Police Headquarters and regional police headquarters.
- Prosecutors' office, including National Public Prosecutor's Office, regional prosecutors' office and district prosecutors' office.
- Stakeholders involved in nature conservation process, including The General Directorate for Environmental Protection, regional directorates for environmental protection, Chief Inspectorate of Environmental Protection and voivodship inspectors of environmental protection.
- The judicial authorities, including district courts and administrative courts.
- Other organizations (e.g. social organizations) which are allowed to participate in nature conservation processes.

Moreover, promotional and educational activities (website, media campaign, informational leaflets) will be dedicated and available to all people interested in nature conservation processes.